

Our New Junior School – Schedule of Construction Newsletter – Edition: 6

The new school term in January saw the arrival of our new Junior School Head, Mr Jamie Hornshaw. He very quickly arranged to see the new school and reviewed the on-going building work. Jamie commented:

“Since my appointment as Head of the New Junior School last May, I have been fully involved with the development of the building. Having arrived in France during the Christmas holidays with my family, I am now in a position to oversee the project more closely as we rapidly move towards completion.”

Internally, the changes are visible on a daily basis. Rooms are being decorated, tiled areas are almost complete and the underfloor heating is soon to be tested so that the carpets can be laid.

“I am pleased to report that only a minimal amount of time was lost due to the snow and ice.”

Outside, the Astroturf and foundation stage playgrounds are waiting to be installed, playground surfaces and surrounds are being finished and the service roads are being prepared.

A walk along the Quai will give you a clear indication of how quickly the project is moving along and how now we really do have a New Junior School.

“I am looking forward to reporting more frequently the developments as they happen over the coming weeks. It will not be long then until you will have the opportunity to see inside the School for yourselves and appreciate fully what a wonderful facility awaits your children in September.”
